WILLIAM HENDRICKS WANTS $1,000 FOR LOSING HIS POSITION.

George C. Pearson, His Former Employe, Has a Different Version of It-Grand Jury Report.

William Hendricks yesterday filed suit against George C. Pearson for $1,000 damages under the law that provides that an employer shall not discharge a man on account of his political opinions. The complaint alleges that last January Hendricks entered into a contract with Mr. Pearson to work as salesman for $100 a month, and that in February following he was offered another position at an increased salary, which he refused after being assured by Mr. Pearson that his position was permanent. In June, it is alleged in the complaint, the plaintiff was discharged solely on account of his expressed political opinions. Mr. Pearson was asked about the case last night. He said: "Mr. Hendricks was employed by me last January as a salesman at $100 a month, but not for a year. He was simply given employment by the month Shortly after he went to work he became sick and was off for nearly a month, during which time I paid him his full salary. He never asked me if his position was perwas discharged simply for the reason that he was not earning his salary; his sales did not justify me in keeping him. I never knew his politics, and do not now. If he had been a good salesman and worth his hire he would still be in my employ, if he desired

They Will Bring Their Foxbounds to Kennel Club Trials.

The managers of the Hoosier Kennel Club's bench show, to be given during the week beginning Feb. 1, are making strong efforts to give a first-class show. The proceeds are to be devoted to charity. A committee composed of Thomas Taggart, John T. Brush, Albert Lieber, William E. English and Joseph Becker has been appointed to dispose of the net proceeds of the week in charity work as they may see fit. A strong effort is being made to secure a good attendance of foxhounds. There will be a field trial of hounds some place near the city. The place has not been decided upon yet. In this department Roger D. Williams, of Kentucky, a well-known authority on the subject, has been appointed judge. He writes that many Kentuckians will come with their packs of foxhounds to enter this contest, and Frank Samuels and the other local managers are anxious that Indiana shall turn out enough good hounds to stand a chance to win the first prize in this contest. The citizens have been very liberal in their subscriptions to the prize list. It is expected that a goodly sum of money will be realized for charity. It is not necessary for a dog to be registered or have a pedigree to be entered in the show, and the entry fee is $1 in all classes. This pays for feed and care during week of show, also gives the exhibitor a season ticket. It is hoped that every dog of value, and especially the pet dogs, pugs, spaniels and terriers, be entered. The club wants to make a showing of Indianapolis to the many large kennel owners coming

Bruce Will Now Go Home. C. H. Bruce, the young man from Boston has been found. He was confined in the workhouse for a time, and upon his release he called at the police station and asked if any money had been sent him from home. On receiving a negative reply, he went away. Day before yesterday Super-intendent Colbert received a letter inclosing $25 from Bruce's father, with instructions to buy the young man a toket for Boston and to send him home. Pruce called at the police station and went with Mr. Colbert to purchase the railroad ticket. He will leave for home this afternoon.

FORTY MEN WALK OUT.

Trouble Over Wages at the Indiana Bicycle Plant.

About forty workmen left the Indiana bicycle works yesterday. It is not exactly a strike, but the men say they left on account of a reduction in their wages. They claim that they were making about $2.50 a day, and that this was cut so that they can now make only $1.50 to $2 a day. Mr. Steele, the superintendent, says the work the men that the first price named to them was merely temporary to ascertain how much could be done in a day, and that the recent change in the price was merely a fixing of the scale permanently, and is not a cut. He claims that the men can now make from $2.50 to $3 a day by running two or three lathes, which he says one industrious man can do. The men claim that in answer to their protest they were told that half a loaf was better than none, and that if they did not want to accept the scale they could

"Wizard" Schaefer Wins One.

Last night "Wizard" Schaefer and William Spinks played some fine billiards at the Denison House. They played one game of 300 points, balk line, and one game of fifty points, cushion carom. The first game was won by Schaefer in six innings, making an average of 50 points to the inning. The score was as follows:

Schaefer—3, 29, 1, 121, 62, 18—300. Spinks—41, 12, 26, 1, 82—164. The second game was won by Spinks in eight innings, making an average of 614 points to the inning. The score was as Spinks-2, 12, 1, 6, 0, 19, 1, 9-50. Schaefer-0, 1, 0, 2, 8, 3, 26, 5-45.

After the games both men gave some hibitions of very fine fancy shots.

W. H. Craft Dangerously III. W. H. Craft, who has been a resident of this city since 1854, is very ill at his home at the corner of Illinois and Fourteenth (old Fifth) street. Several weeks ago he had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which has kept him in bed since. About ten days ago some complications set in, and several times since then the doctors in attendance have almost given up hope. Such a sinking spell occurred yesterday, when there seemed danger of a fatal termination by uremic poisoning, but last night this trouble had been relieved to a considerable extent. While his condition is very serious, the physicians in attendance still have hope that he will recover.

Count Goluchowski called on Prince Hohenlohe, the imperial chancellor, soon after his arrival, and this evenhe was received in audience and dined with Emperor William. It appears that the German military attache at Vienna had TOWELS, REAL HUCK LINEN, size 17 a special audience with Emperor Francis Joseph early in the week and gave his Majesty a detailed explanation of the new German field gun, with drawings, models, etc. The German Emperor also had a long conversation with Baron von Szogyeny-Marich, the Austrian embassador to Germany, and with the Austrian military attache on the same subject. Count Goluchowski will also confer with Emperor William and Prince Hohenlohe on foreign affairs, especially as regards France and the Russian alliance.

In the meanwhile the Polish organ, the Posen Kuryer, was heavily fined this week and its editor was sentenced to six weeks in jail. The police also made repeated searches of lin, and its chief editor will be prosecuted. In the Reichsland (Alsace-Lorraine) the government is dealing with greater severity with the anti-German propaganda and the Gazeta de Lorraine, the leading organ of the French population, has been for-bidden to print official news in French.

Emperor William, since the removal of the court to Berlin, has resumed his customary life. view to abolish sugar bounties have failed. Much stir has been caused in Cologne owing to the order of the military governor, General Leipziger, that no military assistance be given to the carnival and that no officers be allowed to attend it, because a one of the sessions of the Cologne Carnival Society an ironical speech was made referring to the Brusewitz affair, which was considered offensive to the army. As the promoters of the carnival depend on army horses to draw cars it is feared that it wil either fall through or turn out to be poor affair. The Radicals and National Liberals intend to question, in the Reichstag, the government's right to imprison editors for refusing to reveal the authorship of information. They intend to propose a special law to render such high proceedings impossible in the future.

It appears that the Prussian minister for the interior is responsible for the prosecutions which caused friction between himself and Prince Hohenlohe, who disapproves of the preliminary fetes in honor of the centenary of William I's birthday, which are aiready occurring. The Pan-German Students' Federation made a big demonstration at the Philharmonic Hall on Thursday, the students of the Veterinary College of Berlin will hold a meeting next Monday, and similar celebrations on the part of the students of Goettingen, Marburg and Giessen have been arranged for Feb. 15. The arrange ments are now completed for a big national festival in honor of the centenary March 22, in Berlin. CLOAKS, FURS and SUITS

We have gone through the department and revised our prices, which were low enough as they were, but our stocks being entirely too heavy for this late in the season, and we could see no hope of disposing of same in any other way, except by using extreme measures.

Some garments we have marked as low as 25c on the dollar. Some 35c on the dollar. Some 50c

This, of course, includes Jackets, Capes, Furs, Suits, without reserve.
